As we approach the 2010 spring baseball season, we are reminded of the rich tradition and history of Panther Baseball. The history in baseball at Greenville College has been filled with success on the field as well as off the field. Many lessons have been learned through baseball that have impacted students’ lives for eternity. For that reason alone we are thankful for the significant role our baseball program has played in students’ lives.

As we remember the history, we also look forward to the future and great things ahead for the tool of baseball to be used in the development of young men. Our head coach, Lynn Carlson, gives us many reasons to be optimistic about the 65th season of Panther Baseball and beyond. We hope you will enjoy watching and supporting Panther Baseball as it strives to fulfill the Mission of Greenville College on and off the field.
The 2010 Greenville College Panther Baseball team will have a very different look to them. After losing 7 players to graduation including 5 starters, the Panthers have no choice but to turn the page. Fortunately, the recruiting class for the fall of 2009 mixed with the development of some younger players should combine with the returning core to produce a capable team for 2010.

The biggest losses for the Panthers will be starters Mike Scott, Zach Miller, Brian Stoff offensively as well as Andy Rincker on the mound. Along with that could be the loss of Bryan Hobbie, who was a 2nd team all-conference outfielder last season. There is an outside chance, because of remaining eligibility, he may return to the Panthers for one more season. Other graduated seniors who were big contributors were Heath Erwin on the mound and Carter Burford behind the plate. All of them leave big shoes to fill. In addition to the senior departures, the Panthers also lose starting shortstop, Ross Cook, and third baseman, Mike O’Hara who are both concentrating on their academics. That leaves no less than 5 positions on the field that will be assumed by new starters this spring.

The Panthers return a core of good players that should help solidify the team on both offense and defense. Returning at 2nd base will be Honorable Mention All-Conference player, junior Kyle Hobar (.320 avg, 9 sb). Also returning will be senior backstop Brian Deadmond (.328 avg.), who led the conference in throwing out base-stealers last spring. The biggest boost for the Panthers this spring on offense will come from 5th year senior, Stefan Neece, who is coming off Tommy John Surgery and a medical redshirt season. Stefan is a 3-time All-Conference player for the Panthers and an experienced 1st baseman. He currently ranks in the top 10 career statistics in Home Runs, Doubles, Hits, RBI’s, Total Bases, Batting Average, and Walks for the Panthers.

Joining the trio of returning starters will be several Panthers who made significant contributions last season in more limited roles. Returning junior Justin Hubbard hit .345 in 20 starts at 3rd base and designated hitter. Also a junior, Daniel Covert hit .306 while playing the outfield and designated hitter. Other returning hitters who will be counted on for offense this spring will be junior Wes Letizia, and sophomore Ryan Siddle.

The returning pitchers for the Panthers include several starters and others who will contribute out of the bullpen. Matt Leefers is a 4-year starter for the Panthers and has dominated opponents at times. We look for more consistency from Matt this season. Eric Heiden played a big role on the staff last spring with several quality spot-starts against some of the best opponents on the schedule. Daniel Covert showed some continued growth during his sophomore campaign finishing 2nd in the team in wins and 3rd in strikeouts. Both Eric and Daniel will have a chance to start some games this spring. Out of the bullpen, two returners will help to keep the Panthers in games and nail down victories. Justin Hubbard and Wes Letizia continue their development and both have the pitches to dominate in relief.

The class of new players for the Panthers should have several legitimate contributors in the group. Beginning on the mound, the Panthers have a group of 7 new pitchers that should be able to replace the pitchers that graduated last spring and add quality arms to our pitching staff. Junior David Massengill is a transfer student from Lakeland College. He is from Neoga, Illinois and should contribute both in the outfield and on the mound as well. Also joining the team this spring is sophomore Derrick Hudnut, who spent last spring getting himself eligible for this year after transferring in from Southwestern Illinois College in Belleville. Several freshman will compete for innings on the mound as well. Kye Winter has the potential to start ballgames as well as Derek Reckmann. Also competing for innings will be Cole Lawson, Kyle Boldt, and Scott Voyles. Each of them has the potential to be valuable members of the pitching staff.

With 5 position players graduating, many of the new players will vie for starting and contributing roles this spring. On the infield, 5 new middle infielders bring depth, versatility, and athleticism to the team. Ben Brown, Travis Hawkins will push returning 2nd baseman Kyle Hobar. At shortstop where a position is available, Juan Mondragon, Scott Voyles, and Kye Winter will all likely see some innings in the spring. At third base, Kenny Trager will compete with returners Justin Hubbard and Ryan Siddle for playing time.

Behind the plate Adam Wallace will work under senior Brian Deadmond to improve and develop into the quality college catcher he is capable of becoming. Returning to the outfield will be junior Daniel Covert, who played some right field last season. He will be joined in the outfield by some new faces. New players competing for positions will include junior transfer David Massengill, sophomore transfer Andrew Pihl, and freshmen Cole Lawson, Scott Voyles, and Juan Mondragon.

The Panthers have high hopes for the Spring of 2010. The team will strive to live out the Panther Baseball Covenants on and off the field and trust the Lord for the rest. We hope you will join the Panthers in their quest to compete with character. We appreciate your support. Go Panthers!!!!

Matt is a senior from Coffeen, Illinois. He is a 4th year returning starter who, while showing improvement in his skills last spring, didn’t improve his statistics. This spring he will be relied upon for a lot of starts and innings. Matt is a front-end rotation starter for the Panthers and is poised for a great senior campaign. He is the son of Tina and Jim Leefers.

Scott is a freshman from Wayne City, Illinois. Because of his good feet and strong arm, Scott has a chance to be a very good college baseball player. He will need to add some strength and refine his skills, but the Panthers are encouraged about his future in the program. He is the son of LeAnn Scott and the grandson of Kathy and Tom Voyles.

Kenny comes to us from Lakewood, Colorado where he started at 3rd base for one of the best teams in the state. He is the grandson of legendary Greenville College basketball coach and athletic director, Jack Trager. Kenny will compete for the starting 3rd base position for the Panthers this spring. He is the son of Sally and Ken Trager.

Kyle is a junior from Germantown, Tennessee. He put together a very nice sophomore season playing primarily 2nd base and earning Honorable Mention All-Conference honors. Kyle is a very good defensive 2nd baseman with great footwork and an above average arm. He will also be one of the major catalysts for the Panther offense. He is the son of Linda and Ron Hobar.

Adam is a freshman catcher from Shipman, Illinois where he played baseball for Brian Hanslow. Adam has the tools to be an excellent college catcher. He is a hard worker and a tough-minded competitor. Adam will likely play a backup role for the Panthers this spring giving the team some valuable innings and gaining vital experience. He is the son of Tonya and Kevin Wallace.

David is a transfer student from Lakeland College in Mattoon where he pitched for the Lakers. He has the potential to be a very good Division III pitcher. He will be counted on for major innings this spring, but will likely see some time in the outfield as well where he can run balls down with his athleticism. He is the son of Tammie and Tim Massengill.
Go Greenville College Panthers!

Derrick Hudnut | Jr - P | R / R
---
Derrick is a sophomore transfer from Southwestern Illinois College in Belleville. He transferred in to GC after being called into the ministry. Derrick has the potential to be a very good college pitcher. He will compete this spring for a starting role and will likely pitch some big innings for the Panther squad. He is the son of Sandy and Larry Hudnut.

Kye Winter | Fr - IF / P | R / R
Kye is a freshman from Willow Lake, South Dakota. Kye is a very good athlete and will likely play shortstop and pitch for the Panthers this spring. He has a very strong arm as well as good hands and footwork. Kye may play several positions for the Panthers this spring. He will also be an important contributor offensively. He is the son of Shawn Robbins and Kim and Rodney Winter.

Bryan Hobbie | Sr - OF | R / R
Bryan is a 5th year senior from Vandalia, Illinois. He is coming off a solid season where he was voted to the all-conference 2nd team, while hitting in the middle of the order. Bryan’s athleticism makes him an excellent defensive player and his speed makes him a threat every time he reaches base. We look for even better things from Bryan this spring. He is the son Debbie and Glen Hobbie.

Derek Reckmann | Fr - P | R / R
Derek is a freshman from nearby Alhambra, Illinois where he played his baseball for Joel Hawkins at Highland High School. Derek is a tall, long, right-handed pitcher with a good feel on the mound. He projects well as a Division III pitcher and the Panthers have high hopes for him even this season. Derek is the son of Kim and Jerry Reckmann.

Kyle Boldt | Fr - IF / P | R / R
Kyle is a right-handed pitcher from Woodlawn High School where he played for GC Panther alumnus, Lance Boldt. Kyle has a solid frame for a freshman and a good understanding on the mound. Kyle will need to log some quality innings this spring for the Panthers be as good as they can be. He is the son of Sharon and Jerry Boldt.

Daniel Covert | Jr - OF / P | L / R
Daniel is a junior pitcher and outfielder. Last season Daniel was 3rd in innings pitched and 3rd in strikeouts for the Panthers. He also ended the season as the Panthers designated hitter hitting .306 for the season. The Panthers look for more from him offensively and also defensively in the outfield this coming spring. He should still remain an important part of the pitching staff as well. Daniel is the son of Katrina and Darin Covert.
Wes Letizia | Jr - IF / P | R / R

Wes is a junior 1st baseman and pitcher from Neoga, Illinois. He has a very strong throwing arm and good footwork around the bag. The Panthers look for Wes to compete at the designated hitter position and possibly push for some innings in the outfield this spring. He should help bolster the pitching staff out of the bullpen as well. He is the son of Maureen and John Letizia.

Eric Heiden | Jr - P | L / L

Eric is a junior left-handed pitcher from Altamont, Illinois. He threw some valuable innings for the Panthers last season starting 6 games and coming out of the bullpen in 4 others. He will once again compete for innings as a starter and reliever this spring. We believe Eric will continue to develop as he was one of the most improved players last spring. He is the son of Janet and Elden Heiden.

Justin Hubbard | Jr - IF | R / R

Justin is a junior 3rd baseman and pitcher for the Panthers. Last season he was a part-time starter at 3rd base and designated hitter. This year he will compete for a starting position at both positions and also contribute some innings out of the bullpen. Look for Justin to continue to improve and contribute significantly to the Panthers success this spring. He is the son of Connie and Michael Hubbard.

Stefan Neece | Sr - IF | L / R

Stefan is a 5th year senior coming off of Tommy John surgery last winter. He is a 3-time all-conference player and sits in the top 10 in several career offensive categories in the Greenville College baseball program. A 3-year team captain, Stefan provides great leadership through his hard-work and selfless humble attitude. He is the son of Marleen and Brad Neece.
